Introduction

This is Kenya's third Voluntary National Review (VNR), following the first two in 2017 and 2020. Over the past ten years, since the adoption of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, significant progress has been made in its implementation and many accomplishments have been realized. The Kenya National Bureau of Statistics (KNBS) plays a crucial role in this implementation by identifying indicators and providing data to track the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

As per the Statistics Act, 2006 (No. 4 of 2006), the KNBS is entrusted with the mandate to produce official statistics and is responsible for developing and proposing the various indicators related to the SDGs in the Kenyan context. In line with this mandate, KNBS has developed and maintains the National SDG Indicator Framework (NIF), ensuring alignment with global indicators. The NIF was collaboratively developed with various members of the National Statistical System (NSS) to reflect national priorities and ensure ownership. This document is a demonstrates the some of the outcomes achieved through enhanced statistical quality and coordination within the NSS, as outlined in both the current and previous KNBS Strategic Plans and envisioned in the 2019/20 to 2022/23 Kenya Strategy for the Development of Statistics (KSDS).

Two alternative data sources have been used to provide data for an indicator or a data point, namely Citizen Generated Data (CGD) and geospatial. CGD was also used to fill data gaps for SDG Indicator 4.1.1 on proportion of children and young people in grades 2/3 achieving at least a minimum proficiency level in reading and mathematics, by sex; and indicator 5.3.1 on proportion of women aged 20–24 years who were married or in a union before age 15 and before age 18. At the same time, four SDG indicators namely, 9.1.1 Proportion of the rural population who live within 2 km of an all-season road; 11.2.1: Proportion of population that has convenient access to public transport; 11.3.1: Ratio of land consumption rate to population growth rate and 11.7.1 Average share of the built-up area of cities that is open space for public use for all were computed using geospatial data. This demonstrates KNBS commitment to leveraging alternative data sources using the criteria for validating CGD as outlined in the Kenya Statistical Quality Assurance Framework (KeSQAF) and Kenya Strategy for the Development of Statistics (KSDS) 2019/20-2022/23.

This statistical annex provides more detailed statistics and enhances the relevance and conciseness of the report. This allows users to easily locate additional information related to the SDG indicators being tracked and supports a better understanding of the VNR report. In a departure from previous NIFs presented in Excel, the 2024 statistical annex presents data in charts and graphs.

The statistical annex encompasses select indicators from the 17 SDGs of the 2030 Agenda that are presented in Kenya's 2024 VNR.

The annex utilizes National Indicator Frameworks to highlight Kenya's overall progress since the adoption of the SDGs. It serves as a supplementary document to the main body of the VNR, providing additional background information and facilitating further statistical exploration to present progress. It is important to note that this annex does not include all indicators from the NIF. Instead, it focuses on indicators that have the most recent information, with at least 2 or more data points in the framework. The indicators were selected for their potential to provide a comprehensive analysis of progress for different sub-national groups. Priority was given to indicators and statistical information that can be disaggregated to demonstrate either "leaving no one behind" or "gender equality," two key aspects of the 2030 Agenda.

The 2024 NIF contains 168 indicators for the country, an increase from 128 indicators in 2016. These indicators align with the 17 SDGs outlined in the 2030 Agenda and were selected based on data availability. The framework is reviewed and updated annually, after the dissemination of the annual Economic Survey, which is the main data source for NIF, plus available data from surveys and censuses that have been disseminated at the time of updating.

More than half of the data (60%) comes from administrative sources, 38% is from surveys and census data, and about 2% is from alternative data sources such as Citizen Generated Data and Geospatial data.

The presentation of indicators focuses on a base period of 2009-2014, just before the adoption of the 2030 Agenda, until the latest available data point, mostly 2023 or 2022.

Each goal is accompanied by the goal description to provide background and enhance user understanding. At the end of each goal, there is a summary table of the SDG indicators mentioned in the Voluntary National Review but not visualized in the report. The NIF and the Statistics Annex providing the latest and comprehensive SDG data for Kenya can be accessed online on the KNBS SDG platform at <https://www.knbs.or.ke/knbs-sdgs/>.

SDG 1 - End Poverty in all its forms everywhere

SDG 1 calls for the eradication of poverty in all its manifestations. It envisions shared prosperity, a basic standard of living and social protection benefits for people everywhere, including the poorest and most vulnerable. Monitoring SDG 1 in Kenyan context involves tracking aspects related to multidimensional poverty and basic needs.

SDG 2 - End hunger, achieve food security and improved nutrition and promote sustainable agriculture

SDG 2 seeks to end hunger and malnutrition and ensure access to safe, nutritious and sufficient food. Realising this goal will largely depend on promoting sustainable production systems and increasing investment in rural infrastructure and agricultural research and development. Monitoring SDG 2 in Kenya context includes tracking developments in obesity, the sustainability of agricultural production, and the environmental impacts of agricultural activities on land, water and atmosphere.
